Introduction

Spelling matters to readers and it matters to writers because it is part of the process of making meaning through the written word. Competence in spelling releases the creativity of the writer. Young writers need to be so confident about their spelling that they can concentrate on composing ideas and making stylistic choices at word and sentence level that reflect the purpose and the context of their writing.

English spelling is more regular than it may seem: there are fewer than 500 wholly irregular words in modern English, but some are words that we use very frequently. Since English spelling is more than 80% predictable, it makes sense to teach spelling systematically, not just incidentally. David Crystal makes that point very clearly in his *Cambridge Encyclopedia of the English Language:

"If the spelling system contains such regularity, why is there a problem? The answer is complex, but a major factor is that children are rarely taught how to spell. They are made to learn spellings by heart, and are rigorously tested on them, but few attempts are made to explain what it is they have learned. They are not generally told why spellings are as they are, or about how these spellings relate to the way words are pronounced. Without such perspective, spelling becomes a vast, boring and time-consuming memory task." (p.272)

The Year 7 spelling bank

The Year 7 spelling bank is intended to support teachers in teaching spelling systematically and enjoyably, in ways which help pupils to develop a positive perspective on themselves as spellers.

It is important to use the Year 7 spelling bank selectively since pupils will have met many of the objectives before: less confident spellers may need re-inforcement and consolidation, while able spellers should be encouraged to pursue investigations which develop their appreciation of the origins and patterns of English spelling.

This booklet contains a bank of teaching ideas to help in the teaching of word level objectives in Key Stage 3. The objectives are drawn from the word level strand of the Key Stage 3 National Strategy Framework for teaching English: Years 7, 8 and 9. They cover spelling conventions and spelling strategies.

Some objectives are explored through a number of activities and are approached from different angles in a deliberate attempt to embed understanding. For each objective there are suggestions for teaching that objective with the whole class and through group activities, as well as a bank of useful words. At the bottom of each page there are notes which include the rules or conventions themselves.

Spelling objectives from Year 7 of the Framework for teaching English: Years 7, 8 and 9

Spelling

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure:

1. correct vowel choices, including: vowels with common alternative spellings, e.g. ay, ai, a–e; unstressed vowels; the influence of vowels on other letters, e.g. doubling consonants, softening c;
2. pluralisation, including es endings, and words ending in y, f and vowels;
3. word endings, including vowel suffixes such as ing; consonant suffixes such as ful; modifying words ending in y or e; making choices between similar endings such as cian, sion and tion;
4. prefixes, including antonym prefixes, e.g. ir, un;
5. the spellings of high-frequency words including common homophones;
6. the use of the apostrophe including: omissions; the possessive apostrophe; apostrophising plurals, e.g. ladies' coats, and words ending in s; the exception of possessive pronouns;
7. the spellings of key words in each subject.

Spelling strategies

To continue learning, constructing and checking spellings, pupils should be able to:

8. recognise and record personal errors, corrections, investigations, conventions, exceptions and new vocabulary;
9. sound out words phonemically and by syllables;
10. draw on analogies to known words, roots, derivations, word families, morphology and familiar spelling patterns;
11. identify words which pose a particular challenge and learn them by using mnemonics, multi-sensory re-inforcement and memorising critical features;
12. use the quartiles of a dictionary and find words beyond the initial letter;
13. make effective use of a spellchecker, recognising where it might not be sufficient or appropriate.

Objective 1
Vowel choices

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure correct vowel choices, including: vowels with common alternative spellings, e.g. ay, ai, a–e; unstressed vowels; the influence of vowels on other letters, e.g. doubling consonants, softening c.

Focus: vowel choices

Whole-class approaches
◆ Identify words that share the same long vowel sound (long a, e, i, o or u).
◆ Order words by spelling pattern (see notes below).
◆ Generate ideas about which spelling is most likely and create guidelines, e.g. long a at the end of the word is usually spelled ay (say, play, day, may, etc.).
◆ Find the most likely spelling pattern for a long vowel sound in the middle or at the end of a word, or in combination with certain consonants.

Group tasks
◆ Ask pupils to collect, list and categorise spellings of a long vowel sound by spelling pattern.
◆ Pupils could investigate:
  – Which spelling is most likely at the end of words? (ay)
  – Which spelling is most likely in the middle of words? (ai)
  – Which spelling is most likely in combination with different consonants? (a–e) For example, when a word contains a long a and this is followed by t then it is most likely to be spelled ate.
  – What other patterns can pupils spot?
  – Are there other ways to spell the phoneme?
◆ Sort the list of words below to discover the most common spelling patterns for long i and e phonemes when followed by t phoneme.

beat	cheat	flight	knight	mite	quite	site	tight
beet	eat	fright	light	neat	right	sleet	treat
bite	feet	heat	meat	night	seat	slight	wheat
bleat	fight	height	meet	peat	sheet	spite	white
bright	fleet	kite	might	plight	sight	sweet	write

Notes
◆ A phoneme is the smallest unit of sound in a word. There are around 44 phonemes in English, which may be represented by 1, 2, 3 or 4 letters.
◆ The long a phoneme is spelled in one of three main ways – ai (main), ay (play) or a–e (made).
◆ The long e phoneme is spelled in one of four main ways – ee (wheel), ea (meal), ie (thief) or e–e (mere).
◆ The long i phoneme is spelled in one of three main ways – i–e (slime), y (my) or igh (fight).
◆ The long o phoneme is spelled in one of three main ways – o–e (phone), oa (moan) or ow (show).
◆ The long u phoneme is spelled in one of three main ways – u–e (tune), oo (moon) or ew (flew).

Objective 1
Vowel choices
Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure correct vowel choices, including: vowels with common alternative spellings, e.g. ay, ai, a–e; unstressed vowels; the influence of vowels on other letters, e.g. doubling consonants, softening c.

Focus: unstressed vowels

Whole-class approaches
◆ Point out that some vowels are difficult to make out because they are spoken quickly or quietly. They do not 'sound out' clearly because the 'beat' in the word falls elsewhere. Give examples from the list below.
◆ Select words that contain unstressed vowels and write them on the board or flipchart. Ask the pupils to work out what the words have in common and why people might have difficulty in spelling them. Circle the vowels that are hard to hear.
◆ Discuss how the spellings of such words could be memorised, e.g. exaggerated pronunciation or 'spellspeak' where words are broken down into syllables – diff-er-ence; thinking of the root word, e.g. differ + the suffix ence; use of mnemonics, e.g. 'pet on the car*pet*', 'Al is in hospit*al*'.

Group tasks
◆ Pupils work in pairs to develop further ideas/mnemonics for supporting the spelling of words provided in the chart below.
◆ Ask the pupils to decide on categories for grouping words, e.g. ary, ery, erence.
◆ Pupils work out amusing ways of remembering the spelling of words they find tricky because they include unstressed vowels.

abandoned	conference	easily	generous	library	offering	similar abominable	consonant	explanatory	geography	literacy	original	skeleton
alcohol	corporal	extra	grammar	literate	parallel	smuggler
animal	deafening	factory	heaven	literature	parliament	stationary
astronomy	definite	familiar	history	locomotive	poisonous	stationery benefit	definitely	family	holiday	lottery	predict	telephone boundary	describe	fattening	hospital	margarine	prepare	television
business	description	February	illiterate	marvellous	primary	vegetable carpet	desperate	flattery	interest	mathematics	prosperous	voluntary
category	dictionary	formal	interested	medicine	reference	Wednesday
Catholic	difference	freedom	January	memorable	Saturday	widening centre	different	frightening	jewellery	messenger	secretary company	disinterest	general	journalist	miniature	separate
compromise	doctor	generally	lettuce	miserable	signature

Notes
◆ Draw pupils' attention to the high number of words that contain the er and en patterns.
◆ Helpful tactics:
  – refer to the root;
  – build the word up to detect prefixes, suffixes and syllables;
  – refer to related words, e.g. definite – finite;
  – 'spellspeak' words as they might sound, e.g. Wed-nes-day.

Objective 1
Vowel choices

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure correct vowel choices, including: vowels with common alternative spellings, e.g. ay, ai, a–e; unstressed vowels; the influence of vowels on other letters, e.g. doubling consonants, softening c.

Focus: doubling consonants

Whole-class approaches
◆ Explain the convention: words ending with a single consonant preceded by a short vowel double the consonant before adding vowel suffixes such as ing, er, est or ed. Collect and display examples.
◆ Investigation – use the words below to draw a contrast between words that double the final consonant and those that do not. The clue is in the sound of the preceding vowel.
◆ Provide base words and ask pupils, in pairs, to spell and show the extended word on the board or flipchart.

Group tasks
◆ Provide a mixture of base words that were not used in the whole-class activities. Have the pupils work in pairs to provide the correct spellings when adding ing, er, ed, est where appropriate.
◆ Provide pupils with newspaper or magazine articles. Ask them to find, highlight and record words that have consonants doubled where suffixes have been added.

Doubled letters
beg	begged	beggar	hum	humming	hummed
big	bigger	biggest	mop	mopping	mopped
dig	digging	digger	run	runner	running
drag	dragging	dragged	stop	stopper	stopped
drop	dropping	dropped	sun	sunny	sunnier
fit	fitter	fittest	wet	wetter	wettest
hug	hugging	hugged	win	winning	winner

Undoubled letters
beep	beeping	beeped	dream	dreamer	dreaming
blast	blasting	blasted	feel	feeling	feeler
burn	burner	burning	help	helped	helper
count	counter	counted	train	trainer	trained
disgust	disgusted	disgusting	trick	tricky	tricked

Contrasting sets
dine	dining	dinner	ride	riding	ridden
hide	hiding	hidden	write	writing	written

Notes
◆ Ensure that pupils understand the difference between short and long vowel sounds.
◆ When you are providing examples of words with short and long vowel sounds, emphasise or exaggerate the sounding out and have the pupils join in.
◆ Short (rap) vowel followed by a single consonant = doubles the consonant.
◆ Long vowel = single consonant.

Objective 1
Vowel choices

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure correct vowel choices, including: vowels with common alternative spellings, e.g. ay, ai, a–e; unstressed vowels; the influence of vowels on other letters, e.g. doubling consonants, softening c.

Focus: the soft c

Whole-class approaches
◆ Use lists of words for ca, ce, ci, co and cu, and ask pupils to generalise about the way the words sound. Ask pupils to read aloud to hear the differences and find the patterns.
◆ Ask pupils to decide what rules apply for words with the ca, ce, ci, co and cu pattern, e.g.

call, calendar, camera, cardigan, carnival, recap
celery, centimetre, centre, cereal, centipede circle, cinema, cinnamon, city, circuit coat, cobweb, coffin, cold, column, cow, disco cupboard, curtain, custard, customer, cut, discuss

Have them decide which other c group belongs with the ci group, i.e. ce, because the c is softened.

Group tasks
◆ Independent investigation – give the pupils a group of cards containing a mix of c words and ask them to sort the words and work out the rule about the vowel following c.
◆ Have pupils find as many words as they can from the different c + vowel groups.
◆ Ask pupils to find and record examples of cy words (which also have the soft c sound).

ci
accident	circuit	circumstance	city	decision	incident
cinema	circular	circus	civil	decisive	incisor
cinnamon	circulation	cistern	decide	disciple	recital
circle	circumference	citizen	decimal	discipline	recite ce
ceiling	cellar	cent	century	deceased	discern celebrate	cellophane	centenary	cereal	deceit	except celebrity	cement	centigrade	ceremony	December	incense
celery	cemetery	centipede	certain	decent	receive cell	census	centre	certificate	descend	recent cy
bicycle	cyclic	cyclone	cynic	cypress	fancy	mercy
cyanide	cyclist	cylinder	cynical	cyst	lacy	recycle

Notes
◆ ci, ce and cy usually soften the c.
◆ Exception for ce – celt, celtic (pronounced as kelt, keltic).

Objective 2
Pluralisation

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure pluralisation, including es endings, and words ending in y, f and vowels.

Focus: pluralisation s/es

Whole-class approaches
◆ Create a list of singular words with their plurals, either by taking suggestions, collecting over time or using the lists below. Ask pupils to group them according to the way they add or change their endings to accommodate the plural.
◆ Pupils use response cards for s/es endings. Pupils show the correct ending in response to a spoken word.
◆ Individual notebooks – pupils attempt to apply taught rules in response to a given word.
◆ Cloze passage featuring deleted plurals.

Group tasks
◆ Investigation – after establishing the basic 'Add s' rule, pupils could conduct an open investigation into other ways of forming plurals.
◆ Play bingo, featuring cards with pluralisation rules written in the squares. Cards are then drawn featuring different words to be pluralised.
◆ Design posters or radio commercials to advertise a spelling rule.

Typical words		Hissing and buzzing words
balloon	balloons	box	boxes
boy	boys	bus	buses
day	days	church	churches
dog	dogs	dish	dishes
girl	girls	fox	foxes
meal	meals	kiss	kisses
school	schools	lunch	lunches
sister	sisters	patch	patches
word	words	watch	watches

Notes
◆ Irregular plurals are dealt with separately elsewhere in the Year 7 spelling bank.
◆ Most nouns ending in e just add s, e.g. shoe, tongue, eye, lane, spade but some are irregular, e.g. mouse, goose.
◆ Fish is an exception in that an alternative plural is 'fish'.
◆ Nouns ending in hissing, buzzing or shushing sounds (s/x/ch/sh) usually add es in the plural. This adds a syllable and makes the word easier to say.

Objective 2
Pluralisation
Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure pluralisation, including es endings, and words ending in y, f and vowels.

Focus: words ending in y

Whole-class approaches
◆ Discuss and exemplify the convention: when y is preceded by a consonant, change to ies; when y is preceded by a vowel, add s.
◆ Create a list of singular words which end in y, with their plurals, by suggestions, collecting over time or using the lists below. Ask pupils to group them according to the way they add or change their endings to accommodate the plural.
◆ Use response cards to show whether pupils choose s or ies endings. Pupils show the correct plural ending in response to a singular word given by the teacher.
◆ Individual notebooks – pupils attempt to apply taught rules in response to a given word.
◆ Cloze passage featuring deleted plurals.

Group tasks
◆ Play bingo, featuring cards with pluralisation patterns written in the squares. Cards are then drawn featuring different words to be pluralised.
◆ Design posters or radio commercials to advertise a spelling rule.

Vowel + y words		Consonant + y words
boy	boys	baby	babies
buoy	buoys	city	cities
buy	buys	cry	cries
day	days	fly	flies
donkey	donkeys	jelly	jellies
key	keys	lolly	lollies
monkey	monkeys	lorry	lorries
quay	quays	party	parties
tray	trays	puppy	puppies
		try	tries
		worry	worries

Note
◆ Nouns ending in consonant + y change y to i and add es. Compare nouns ending in vowel + y, which simply add s.

6

Objective 2
Pluralisation

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure pluralisation, including es endings, and words ending in y, f and vowels.

Focus: words ending in f and fe

Whole-class approaches
◆ Create a list of singular words with their plurals, either by suggestions, collecting over time or by using the list below. Invite pupils to group words according to the way their endings change to accommodate the plural.
◆ Use response cards which enable pupils to display simultaneous choices of s/es for word endings.
◆ Individual notebooks: pupils attempt to apply taught rules in response to a given word.
◆ Cloze passage featuring deleted plurals.

Group tasks
◆ Investigation – pupils could conduct an open investigation into ways of forming plurals from f/fe words.
◆ Word sums, e.g. self + plural = _____
◆ Play card game or bingo, featuring cards with pluralisation rules written in the squares, and in which cards are drawn featuring different words to be pluralised.
◆ Design posters or radio commercials to advertise a spelling rule.

f and fe endings
calf	calves
half	halves
life	lives
loaf	loaves
scarf	scarves
self	selves
thief	thieves
wolf	wolves
knife	knives
wife	wives

Note
◆ Most nouns ending in f drop the f and add ves in the plural. There are exceptions, such as roofs. ff words just add s, e.g. sniff/sniffs.

7

Objective 2
Pluralisation

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure pluralisation, including es endings, and words ending in y, f and vowels.

Focus: plurals of words which end with vowels other than e

Whole-class approaches

◆ Using food words from below, request Foods from abroad and list them in three columns (by endings: a, i, o) with the plural morpheme s written in a different colour. Use the same strategy for Unusual animals of the world or Musical words.

◆ Generalise about adding endings to words which end in a vowel other than e.

◆ Use singular/plural flashcards for the Pelmanism game. Cards are put face down and pupils have to remember where they are in order to match up singular and plural forms of a word.

Group task

◆ Write alliterative alphabetical A–Z poems using plural forms, e.g. Anacondas are always amazingly anxious/ Pizzas are perfect for peckish pupils/ Samosas are scrummy for starving school students.

List 1

anacondas	corgis	igloos	pianos	skis	zoos
areas	cuckoos	jumbos	piazzas	sofas	Zulus
armadillos	dahlias	kangaroos	piccolos	solos
bananas	discos	kimonos	pizzas	sombreros
banjos	ECUs	kiwis	pumas	sonatas
bhajis	emus	magnolias	radios	tarantulas
bongos	fiestas	matzos	risottos	tattoos
cameras	galas	oratorios	rotas	tombolas
casinos	geckos	paellas	sambas	umbrellas
cellos	gnus	pagodas	samosas	violas
chapat(t)is	gurus	pastas	saunas	visas
concertos	haikus	patios	siestas	yoyos

List 2

buffaloes	dominoes	heroes	tomatoes	volcanoes
cargoes	echoes	mangoes	torpedoes
dingoes	haloes	potatoes	vetoes

List 3

antennae	criteria	macaroni	phenomena	spaghetti	tagliatelli
bacteria	fungi	paparazzi	ravioli	strata

Notes

◆ Most nouns ending in o form their plural by adding s, especially musical terms, words recently introduced from other languages and abbreviations. There are some exceptions to this rule, when es is added to form the plural (List 2). Words ending in two vowels usually add s. Three consecutive vowels are unusual, e.g. beau/beaux.

◆ A few words keep the plural spelling of the original language (List 3). Some pasta terms are already plurals in Italian! Many words borrowed from other languages use a number of different spellings, e.g. matzos.

◆ Make use of words from the range of languages you have in your classroom.

Objective 2
Pluralisation

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure pluralisation, including es endings, and words ending in y, f and vowels.

Focus: irregular plurals

Whole-class approaches
◆ Create a list of singular words with irregular plurals, either by suggestions, collecting over time or by using the list below. Invite pupils to group them according to the way their endings change to accommodate the plural.
◆ Use a cloze passage featuring deleted plurals as the basis for class discussion.

Group tasks
◆ Pupils could conduct an open investigation into ways of forming plurals.
◆ Play card game or bingo, featuring cards with different pluralisation patterns written in the squares. Cards are then drawn featuring different words to be pluralised.
◆ Create posters for each of these:
  – words that have no singular (e.g. trousers, scissors);
  – words that are the same in the singular and plural (e.g. sheep, deer);
  – plurals with endings other than s (e.g. mice, men);
  – plurals of words ending in is (e.g. crises, emphases).

Irregular plurals
antenna	antennae
child	children
deer	deer
foot	feet
formula	formulae
goose	geese
larva	larvae
louse	lice
man	men
mouse	mice
sheep	sheep
tooth	teeth
woman	women

Note
◆ A number of nouns have unusual plurals. Some change the medial vowel (goose/geese); some have retained the plural form of the original language (a singular, ae plural in Latin).

Objective 3
Word endings
Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure word endings, including vowel suffixes such as ing; consonant suffixes such as ful; modifying words ending in y or e; making choices between similar endings such as cian, sion and tion.

Focus: vowel suffixes

Whole-class approaches
◆ Create class collections of words with common vowel suffixes and group them (see table below).
◆ Investigation – explore patterns, base words and generalisations about spellings, e.g. Why is 'islander' island + er but voyager = voyag + er? What do the suffixes mean?

Group task
◆ Weaker spellers play matching cards – matching the root word to its suffix.

al	ary	ic	ist	ive	er	est
additional	anniversary	acidic	artist	alliterative	baker	cleverest
exceptional	dictionary	allergic	balloonist	alternative	driver	driest
medical	library	analytic	dramatist	apprehensive	farmer	fiercest
national	missionary	comic	extremist	comprehensive	islander	funniest occasional	necessary	dramatic	instrumentalist	corrective	manager	handsomest
personal	revolutionary	energetic	journalist	derivative	poorer	nastiest
seasonal	stationary	horrific	machinist	discursive	reader	neatest
sensational		manic	novelist	exhaustive	richer	poorest
		photographic	specialist	explosive	teenager	richest scientific	stockist	investigative	villager	strongest
		terrific	violinist	retrospective	voyager	tallest

Notes
◆ If the root word ends in an e then it is usually dropped before a vowel suffix is added, e.g. voyage/ voyager.
◆ Words ending in a consonant +y drop the y and change to i when a vowel suffix is added, e.g. funniest.

10

Objective 3
Word endings
Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure word endings, including vowel suffixes such as ing; consonant suffixes such as ful; modifying words ending in y or e; making choices between similar endings such as cian, sion and tion.

Focus: consonant suffixes

Whole-class approaches
◆ Create class collections of words with common consonant suffixes and group them (see table below).
◆ Collect examples of other consonant suffixes, e.g. ness, like, hood, ship, ment etc.
◆ Investigation – seek patterns, base words and generalisations about spellings. What do the suffixes mean?
◆ Draw together groups of words created by adding different suffixes to a base word, e.g. careful, careless, carefully.

Group tasks
◆ Weaker spellers play matching cards – matching the root word to its suffix.
◆ Investigate how many multiple suffixes groups can find, e.g. worthlessness.

ly	ful	less actually	beautiful	careless especially	forgetful	endless
eventually	hateful	fearless friendly	hopeful	headless
kindly	merciful	homeless
likely	painful	jobless
originally	pitiful	lifeless
personally	resentful	merciless
properly	sorrowful	speechless
really	successful	thankless
weekly	wishful	thoughtless

Notes
◆ ly, ful and less are consonant suffixes. Consonant suffixes can generally be added without changing the base word but there are exceptions, e.g. wholly, and words ending in a consonant +y, which usually change to an i, e.g. happiness.
◆ ly means 'in this manner'.
◆ ful means 'full of'.
◆ less means 'without'.

Objective 3
Word endings
Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure word endings, including vowel suffixes such as ing; consonant suffixes such as ful; modifying words ending in y or e; making choices between similar endings such as cian, sion and tion.

Focus: words ending in y

Whole-class approaches
◆ Sort words shown below and work out the rule for words ending in consonant + y.
◆ Fill in a word grid (like the first batch of words below), halting at the modified letters to generalise.
◆ Demonstrate the adding of suffixes, then give pupils a key word (e.g. funny) to work on in their notebooks.
◆ Investigate words ending in vowel + y.

Group tasks
◆ Pupils work in pairs to fill in or complete a prepared grid.
◆ Investigation – sorting words and generalising.
◆ Finding the obvious and less obvious suffixes which are added to verbs (see second batch below).

Extension activity
◆ Investigate whether the final letter changes in any other words ending in y when adding a suffix.

empty	emptier	emptiest	emptily	emptiness
happy	happier	happiest	happily	happiness
heavy	heavier	heaviest	heavily	heaviness
hungry	hungrier	hungriest	hungrily
lazy	lazier	laziest	lazily	laziness
pretty	prettier	prettiest	prettily	prettiness
ready	readier	readiest	readily	readiness
trendy	trendier	trendiest	trendily	trendiness
windy	windier	windiest	windily
ally	allying	allied	alliance
carry	carrying	carried	carriage
marry	marrying	married	marriage
modify	modifying	modified	modification
reply	replying	replied	reply
supply	supplying	supplied	supplier
try	trying	tried	trial
vary	varying	varied	variety

Notes
◆ To add a suffix to a consonant +y word, change the y to an i first. To add a suffix to a vowel +y word, just add the suffix.
◆ An important exception is adding ing – it would be very odd to have a word containing a double i, and difficult to say. (Skiing is an exception.)
◆ Only one other final consonant, f, changes when adding a suffix (though letters can double).

Objective 3
Word endings
Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure word endings, including vowel suffixes such as ing; consonant suffixes such as ful; modifying words ending in y or e; making choices between similar endings such as cian, sion and tion.

Focus: modifying words ending in e

Whole-class approaches
◆ Collect examples of words with suffixes, generalise about their effects on the base word if it ends in e. Use the patterns to generate additional examples that belong in those groups.
◆ Hold up a base word on a card and ask pupils to suggest and show suitable suffixes.
◆ Explore together the effect of adding vowel/consonant suffixes to words ending in e.

Group task
◆ Play 'Find the word', e.g. 'Which ful means "longing for something"?' (hopeful)

Some words as starting points for investigation article	force	hope	poke	shame	time
attainable	frame	life	possible	sure	tune
bike	free	like	programme	tackle	use
care	game	lone	rake	take	voyage
cycle	hassle	make	realise	tangible	wrestle
fake	home	nice	rule	terrorise	wrinkle

Notes
◆ If a word ends in e, avoid the double e by dropping one as necessary.
◆ Words ending in e usually drop the e when adding a vowel suffix, e.g. take/taking.
◆ Words ending in e keep e when adding a consonant suffix, e.g. hope/hopeful; love/lovely.
◆ Pupils may need reminding that a modifying e is part of a vowel digraph which makes a long vowel sound on the preceding vowel.

Objective 3
Word endings

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure word endings, including vowel suffixes such as ing; consonant suffixes such as ful; modifying words ending in y or e; making choices between similar endings such as cian, sion and tion.

Focus: able and ible

Whole-class approaches

◆ In Shared Reading and Writing, identify words with these suffixes and build class collections organised under common headings (see lists below).

◆ Investigation – identify the root words. What changes have been made to these roots before adding the suffix? What generalisations can be made about rules, e.g. 'What happens if the root word ends in e? Or in y? Why touchable but not stopable?'

◆ Write two lists for able and ible in response to the saying of words taken from the lists below.

Group task

◆ Find ways of learning exceptions to the claim that dropping able usually leaves a recognisable stem word.

ible	able
credible	adorable
edible	agreeable
forcible	breakable
horrible	disposable
indestructible	enjoyable
invincible	enviable legible	identifiable
possible	manageable
responsible	miserable
reversible	probable susceptible	reliable
tangible	respectable
terrible	valuable

Notes

◆ Final e deletion is common in the root word, e.g. reversible, valuable, unless it is retained to preserve a soft g or c, e.g. manageable, noticeable.

◆ able endings are more common than ible ones. There is no clear 'rule' but one way of distinguishing between these endings is that dropping able often leaves a generally recognisable word, e.g. agreeable; dropping ible often leaves a stem, e.g. legible. If one can say 'I am able to…', then the suffix is more likely to be able than ible.

Objective 3
Word endings

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure word endings, including vowel suffixes such as ing; consonant suffixes such as ful; modifying words ending in y or e; making choices between similar endings such as cian, sion and tion.

Focus: ful suffixes

Whole-class approaches
◆ Word search in text, or take suggestions. Work out the rule with pupils: ll in full becomes l when used as a suffix.
◆ Collect compound words of which one element is ful.

Group task
◆ Investigate what happens to words ending in y when the suffix ful is added.

Typical ful words
boast	boastful	fear	fearful	play	playful
care	careful	hand	handful	scorn	scornful
colour	colourful	harm	harmful	shame	shameful
doubt	doubtful	hope	hopeful	thank	thankful
faith	faithful	mouth	mouthful	wake	wakeful

y words
beauty	beautiful	fancy	fanciful	pity	pitiful
bounty	bountiful	mercy	merciful	plenty	plentiful

Notes
◆ Drop the l when adding ful.
◆ Change y to i when adding ful to words which end in consonant +y.
◆ Distinguish between 'a hand full of ' and 'a handful of '. The first refers to the hand, the second refers to the quantity.
◆ full, all and till usually drop the second l when they are suffixes, e.g. beautiful, typical, until.

Objective 3
Word endings
Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure word endings, including vowel suffixes such as ing; consonant suffixes such as ful; modifying words ending in y or e; making choices between similar endings such as cian, sion and tion.

Focus: words ending with cian, sion and tion

Whole-class approaches
◆ Make class collections of 'shun' words. Categorise them according to word ending (see lists below).
◆ Develop and draw out patterns leading to general rules determining spelling pattern (see Notes below).
◆ Give a base word and ask pupils to write the correct 'shun' suffix, e.g. educate, magic. Alternatively, use a 'shun' fan for pupils to show in response.

Group tasks
◆ Word building – record roots and suffixes for 'shun' words on separate lists – pupils have to match roots and suffixes to complete words correctly.
◆ Sorting activities – sort cards into lists, depending on the preceding vowel, e.g. ation, etion, etc. Generalise and explain (see Notes).

cian	sion	ssion	tion	other dietician	collision	discussion	attention	Asian electrician	confusion	mission	diction	ocean
magician	corrosion	oppression	direction	Russian musician	exclusion	passion	faction	Venetian
optician	explosion	percussion	fiction
physician	extension	possession	fraction politician	infusion	profession	proportion transfusion	session	reduction

ation	etion	ition	otion	ution
demonstration	completion	competition	devotion	constitution
education	deletion	intuition	emotion	contribution
foundation	depletion	opposition	lotion	distribution
nation	secretion	petition	motion	institution
station		position	notion	pollution
translation		repetition	promotion	revolution

Notes
◆ cian – where words end in c they are usually related to people: common for occupations and identity.
◆ tion – the most common ending.
◆ sion – where the base word ends in d/de or s/se (e.g. explode, confuse).
◆ ssion – clear soft 'sh' sound.
◆ ation – long a is usually followed by tion.
◆ otion/ution/etion – the base word usually contains the vowel, clearly pronounced.
◆ ution words are usually longer than three syllables; usion words tend to be shorter.

Objective 4
Prefixes

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure prefixes, including antonym prefixes, e.g. ir, un.

Focus: antonym prefixes

Whole-class approaches
◆ Display a list of words beginning with these prefixes and teach their meanings directly (see Notes).
◆ Look out for words in shared texts which have any of these prefixes. Cover or delete these words and ask pupils to work out the relevant prefix.
◆ Teacher provides the root word and pupils write down a suitable prefix.

Group tasks
◆ Pupils scan real texts, e.g. adverts, newspapers and highlight words with these prefixes.
◆ In pairs, pupils select and test each other on the spelling and meaning of words listed.
◆ Produce a 'new' list of words to promote an imaginary product, e.g. anti-burglar, anti-frizz! Create an advertisement for a product.
◆ Investigate the use and meanings of dis and de.

Extension activity
◆ Produce a set of insults for use in a drama activity in which pupils bandy insults in a row, choosing words from the lists below. Compare them with the insults that Shakespearean characters throw at each other, e.g. Capulets and Montagues in the first act of Romeo and Juliet.

in	im	ir	il	mis	non	un	anti inaccurate	immature	irrational	illegal	misbehave	non-drip	unfortunate	antibiotic
inactive	immobile	irregular	illegible	miscalculate	non-fiction	unfounded	antibody
inattentive	impatient	irresistible	illiterate	miscount	nonsense	unhelpful	anticlimax
incapable	impolite	irresponsible		misdeal	non-smoker	unlikely	anticline inconvenient	impossible			misfire	non-starter	unrealistic	anticlockwise
incredible	impractical			misfortune	non-stick	unreasonable	anticyclone
indecent	improbable			mishear	non-stop		antifreeze
	improper			misinform	non-violent		antihero
				misplace			antiseptic misread mistake

Notes
◆ mis means 'wrong', 'false'; non means 'not', 'opposite of'; anti means 'against'; ir means 'not'; il means 'not'; im means 'not'; in means 'not'; un means 'not' or 'opposite of'.
◆ New hyphenated words are appearing all the time, especially in advertising.
◆ Note that double letters are often created when the prefix is added to a word beginning with the letter which ends the prefix.
◆ Remember the 'ante' prefix in words like antedeluvian or anteroom.
◆ Im precedes words starting with p as well as words starting with m.

Objective 4
Prefixes

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure prefixes, including antonym prefixes, e.g. ir, un.

Focus: common prefixes

Whole-class approaches
◆ Ask for two examples for every prefix.
◆ Write down ten words from the list of root words below, and ask pupils to make up new words by adding different prefixes. Do they sound correct? Which words are more likely to be correct? How do we know? How can we check?

Group tasks
◆ Match prefixes with meanings. Invite pupils to match them up by working out their meanings from known words.
◆ Play the 'un' game: pupils tell a prefix story in pairs. The first person starts with a sentence beginning with an 'un' word (e.g. 'Unfortunately, the dragon's eye was open.') The partner responds by removing the prefix (e.g. 'Fortunately the Princess was invisible at the time.'), etc.

Extension activity
◆ Thesaurus work
  – look up beautiful – list synonyms and experiment with adding prefixes;
  – make a list of 'bad behaviour' words and present at plenary – unhelpful, antisocial, misbehaviour.

Prefixes and meanings				Roots to work with anti	against	inter	between	act	make bi	two	mis	wrong	awaken	marine
contra	against	non	not	clean	place
de	undo	pre	before	dead	sleep
in	not	sub	under	face	visit
pro	ahead	sus	under	grow	write
re	again	un	not	live
ex	out of

Notes
◆ Remembering prefixes and their meanings helps both spelling and vocabulary.
◆ sus – a version of sub meaning 'under'.

Objective 4
Prefixes

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure prefixes, including antonym prefixes, e.g. ir, un.

Focus: a prefixes

Whole-class approaches
◆ Display lists of words (see table below), and teach the meanings of the prefixes, thus teasing out the meanings of the words.
◆ List prefixes and roots and ask pupils to join up and define words which use both.

Group task
◆ Ask groups to devise a 100-word story including at least ten words with a prefixes. Suitable titles include Sea-Saga, Battle or Summer Garden.

Extension activities
◆ Ask pupils to look for older poetry which may use words like abloom, aglitter.
◆ Skim through a dictionary, looking for new words to add to the lists below – these must hold to the meaning of the prefix.

ad	al	a		ab
addition	almighty	aboard	abide	abandon adjacent	almost	afield	ablaze	abdicate
adjective	alone	aground	abloom	abduct
adjoin	already	alert	afloat	aberrant
adjust	alright	aloft	aglitter	abjure
admire	also	amoral	alive	abscond
advance	although	apart	another	abseil
advent	altogether	astride	around	absolve
adverb	always	awake	asleep
advise		away	atonal

Notes
◆ ad means 'towards' – just add; al means 'all' + base word – drop one of the ls; a means 'in a state of' (many words in the a list above have a sense of 'on' or 'in') – but it can also reverse the meaning as in amoral or atonal; ab means 'away from'.
◆ Teach words within words, e.g. an + other = another.

Objective 4
Prefixes

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure prefixes, including antonym prefixes, e.g. ir, un.

Focus: classical prefixes

Whole-class approaches
◆ Write up the prefixes, divide the class into groups, each with a particular prefix, and ask pupils to write down as many words as they can, in two minutes, for their prefix. Ask pupils to work out the meaning of the prefix, and teach if unknown.
◆ Play Speedy Dictionaries – pairs race against a 30-second deadline to locate word and origin of a prefix in the dictionary.

Group tasks
◆ Collect words with similar prefixes – who can list the most?
◆ Play sorting games – for language of origin, for same prefix, scientific words, words linked to movement, etc.
◆ Search dictionary for new phrases like 'automatic focus', 'automatic door'.
◆ Search science, maths and geography textbooks for examples of words in context.
◆ Do Yellow Pages wordsearch for companies which use prefixed words as a company name, e.g. AutoGlaze. Try travel and transport companies, etc.
◆ Make links with other languages: words for motorways = autoroute (French); autobahn (German); autopista (Spanish); autoput (Serbo-Croat).

auto	circum	bi	tele	trans	micro autobiography	circle	biceps	telegenic	transatlantic	microcosm
autodidact	circular	bicycle	telegraph	transfer	microfilm
autograph	circulate	bifocals	telepathy	translate	micrometer
automatic	circumference	bilingual	telephone	transmit	microphone
automaton	circumnavigate	biped	telephoto	transparent	microscopic automobile	circumstance	biplane	telescope	transplant	micro-skirt
autopsy	circumvent	bisect	television	transport circus

aqua	aero	audi	re	prim	super
aquaplane	aerodrome	audible	reconsider	primary	superman
aquarium	aerodynamics	audience	repeat	primate	supernatural
Aquarius	aeronaut	audition	replay	prime	supernova
aquatic	aeroplane	auditorium	reply	primrose	superpower supersede

Notes
◆ auto means 'self'; circum means 'round', 'about'; bi means 'two' or 'twice'; tele means 'distant'; trans means 'across'; super means 'greater'; micro means 'small'; aqua means 'water'; aero means 'air'; audi means 'hear'; re means 'again', and prim means 'first'.
◆ Use multicultural opportunities, drawing on the range of languages in the classroom.

Objective 5
High-frequency words

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure the spellings of high-frequency words, including common homophones.

Focus: common letter clusters

Whole-class approaches

◆ Make class lists of words that contain common letter strings but are pronounced differently. Make connections to words that follow the same pattern (e.g. near and hear; bear and wear).

◆ Identify overlaps (e.g. clear and pier) and discuss and generate strategies for avoiding confusion (e.g. 'I measured the height and weight of eight people'.)

◆ Use look/say/cover/write/check as a class activity for problem words.

Group tasks

◆ Use crossword dictionaries and other resources to create lists of words with common letter strings but different pronunciations. Try ough, ight.

◆ Investigation– identify patterns:
 – Which pronunciation is the most common?
 – Which pronunciation is the least common?
 – Do pronunciations follow any patterns? (Try looking at position in word, letters preceding and letters following.)

◆ Identify mnemonics and other tricks to avoid potential confusions, e.g. tough and stuff.

our	ough	ear	ight	ice	aus
armour	cough	bear	bright	Alice	Australia
flour	drought	dear	eight	apprentice	Austria hour	enough	dreary	fight	dice	because journey	plough	earn	freight	mice	cause
mourn	rough	fear	height	nice	clause
ourselves	slough	gear	light	notice	claustrophobia
pour	thorough	hear	might	police	pause
sour	though	hearth	night	practice	sausage
tour	thought	learn	right	rice
your	through	wear	sight	spice
	tough	weary	tight	twice trough		weight wrought

Notes

◆ Note that accent and dialect have an effect on how words are pronounced in a locality.

◆ A feature of our sound-spelling system is that the same letter string can often be used to code more than one phoneme. In some cases the number of words involved is so small that they can be learned almost as isolates, e.g. there are only five words that end in eight. The most common sound is shared by eight, weight and freight; the other two words are height and sleight. Even the groups which are more numerous are within reasonable limits. For example, the group showing the greatest range of pronunciation in the table above is ough. Investigation will show that the number of common words that follow some of those models is quite small, e.g.
 – through, lough and drought– one case of each;
 – trough – two cases (trough, cough);
 – plough – three cases (bough, plough, Slough).

Objective 5
High-frequency words

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure the spellings of high-frequency words, including common homophones.

Focus: homophones

Whole-class approaches
◆ Teach words and meanings directly, and display.
◆ Delete homophones in shared texts and ask pupils to work out which one fits.
◆ Pupils write the correct spelling in response to a sentence in which the meaning is clear.

Group tasks
◆ Invent mnemonics and ways of working out the correct choice.
◆ Collect homonyms (same spelling, different meanings, e.g. bear).
◆ Research history of words to explain the origin of some homophones.

by	buy	bye	sew	so	sow
cent	scent	sent	their	they're	there rein	rain	reign	too	two	to rode	road	rowed	you	yew	ewe

aloud	allowed	him	hymn	peace	piece
are	our	hole	whole	place	plaice
beach	beech	hour	our	plane	plain
bean	been	in	inn	read	reed
blue	blew	key	quay	right	write board	bored	knight	night	scene	seen
break	brake	knot	not	see	sea
cell	sell	know	no	stair	stare
cereal	serial	leak	leek	steel	steal
dear	deer	made	maid	sum	some fate	fete	main	mane	sun	son
flour	flower	meet	meat	tail	tale
grate	great	might	mite	through	threw
hair	hare	morning	mourning	vain	vein
herd	heard	new	knew	waist	waste
here	hear	pane	pain	week	weak

Notes
◆ Many homophone choices are best taught as a grammatical issue, e.g. there/ their or through a focus on meaning, e.g. here/ there/ where are all related to place.
◆ Note that analogy with family groups can be helpful, e.g. ear, hear, heard; here, where, there.
◆ Pronunciation varies: are/ our are homophones in some areas, but not in others.

Objective 5
High-frequency words

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure the spellings of high-frequency words, including common homophones.

Focus: common roots

Whole-class approaches
◆ Provide and explain a root, then collect examples.
◆ Provide a list of words using the same root, and ask pupils to deduce the meaning.
◆ In Shared Reading and Writing, identify words built around common roots.
◆ Create word webs showing words related to a common root.

Group tasks
◆ Use dictionaries and other word lists to create collections of words with common roots. (A rhyming dictionary will help to uncover words where the common root is at the end.)
◆ Use an etymological dictionary to create charts showing word links and origins.

Words derived from other languages

from graphein – write	from annus – year	from dictare – to say
graph	annual	dictator
photograph	anniversary	dictionary
from mikro – small	from manus – hand	from mort – dead microscope	manual	mortgage
microlight	manuscript	mortuary
from octo – eight	from aqua – water	from roi – king octagon	aquarium	royal
octopus	aqueduct	royalty
from skopein – to see	from unus – one	from presse – press
telescope	unit	express
microscope	union	pressure
from ge – earth	from insula – island	from voix – voice
geology	insulation	voice
geography	peninsula	vocal from naus – ship	from specere – to look	from bloc – block
nausea	spectator	blockage
nautical	spectrum	blockade

Note
◆ Many roots are derived from languages other than English, particularly Greek, Latin and French. Investigation of these roots can make plain commonalities in spelling which phonology sometimes obscures (e.g. the link between reign and sovereign).

Objective 5
High-frequency words

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure the spellings of high-frequency words, including common homophones.

Focus: word families and spelling patterns

Whole-class approaches
◆ Using the chart below, provide some examples of word families and derivations on the board or flipchart. Provide further examples of word roots and ask pupils to think of words that are derivations. Record these next to the root words, explaining that many words in the English language are derived from other words and this can provide a clue to their spelling.
◆ Explain that many word roots and derivations are drawn from Latin and Greek, and provide examples. With guidance, pupils can investigate the reasons why these two languages have had such an influence on the English language.
◆ Create class word webs.

Group tasks
◆ Provide each group with lists of roots and associated words. Ask pupils to list the words in their relevant families or groups.
◆ Pupils can develop their own card games, e.g. Beat Your Neighbour for groups of four. Twenty word roots and forty derivations (two per word root) are put on to cards. Each pupil starts with five word roots. The forty cards of derivations are placed face-down in the middle of the table and pupils take it in turns to select a word. Unwanted words are placed at the bottom of the pile. The first pupil to collect three sets of word roots and their derivations, and spell all the words in the sets (from memory) wins the game.

act	actor	action	activity	react	reaction
child	children	childhood	childlike	childish	childless
electric	electrical	electricity	electrician	electronic	electrocute
sign	signatory	signature	signal	resign	resignation
take	mistake	mistaken	overtaken	overtaking	partaking

assist	assistant	assistance	machine	machinery	machinist
balance	imbalance	unbalanced	medic	medical	medication
bore	boring	boredom	obey	disobey	disobedient
call	recall	calling	operate	cooperate	cooperation
claim	reclaim	reclamation	pack	packet	package
cover	discover	discovery	pain	painkiller	painstaking examine	examination	examiner	pass	passage	passenger

hero	heroic	heroism	public	publication	publicity
joy	joyful	enjoyment	relate	relative	relation
light	lightning	delighted	shake	shakily	shaken

Note
◆ Encourage use of etymological dictionaries and thesauruses to support pupils in finding/spelling derivations of words and their origins.

Objective 5
High-frequency words

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure the spellings of high-frequency words, including common homophones.

Focus: high-frequency words

Whole-class approaches

◆ Play What Follows? on the board, OHP or flipchart. Start with the first letter of a high-frequency word that pupils find difficult, and ask them to guess which letter follows. If they suggest a continuation which is possible, but not the one required, ask for examples which prove that it is a possible letter combination. If they can provide the examples, write them up and carry on. Eventually it will become obvious which letter(s) must follow. The 'teacher' scores points each time a non-viable letter sequence is suggested.

◆ Give individual target words to pupils, and test them by saying 'Write down your first/ second/ third target word.' Construct success for all.

◆ Identify the high-frequency words most often spelled incorrectly by members of the class. Together, work out ways of remembering them. Include words which do not feature elsewhere in the Spelling Bank.

Group tasks

◆ Establish 'spelling partners': pairs of pupils who help each other to learn their target words, using the look/say/cover/write/check routine, mnemonics and mutual testing.

◆ Make posters of high-frequency words which include complex letter clusters/'tricky trigraphs'.

Note

◆ See Appendix 1: Spelling list.

Objective 6
Apostrophes
Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure the use of the apostrophe, including: omissions; the possessive apostrophe; apostrophising plurals, e.g. ladies' coats, and words ending in s; the exception of possessive pronouns.

Focus: apostrophes for omission

Whole-class approaches
◆ Display or write newspaper headlines which feature contraction apostrophes. Highlight the apostrophes. Review and, if necessary, teach the use of the apostrophe for omission. Invite pupils to try placing apostrophes in words already contracted, but with the apostrophe removed. Emphasise that the apostrophe represents missing letters and not the joining of the two words.
◆ List the full forms. Invite the pupils to contract. Also try this vice versa – offer the contraction and invite pupils to expand.
◆ Generalise about the type of words that attract contractions (verbs and pronouns) from a list.

Group tasks
◆ Check own written work.
◆ Contrast written forms where apostrophised forms are used or not.
◆ Discuss why a writer might choose an apostrophised form rather than the full form.

Pronouns				Other contractions
I'm	I'll	I've	I'd	aren't	ma'am
You're	You'll	You've	You'd	can't	o'clock
He's	He'll	He's	He'd	couldn't	shan't
She's	She'll	She's	She'd	doesn't	'tis
We're	We'll	We've	We'd	don't	weren't
They're	They'll	They've	They'd	hadn't	won't haven't

Notes
◆ The contractions in this list are drawn from high-frequency word lists.
◆ Apostrophes are usually used where two words have been joined and some letters missed out so that a contraction is formed.
◆ Note the homophone issue (its/ it's, there's/ theirs).
◆ Contractions occur more frequently in informal language and in dialogue.
◆ Won't and shan't are unusual because the base words have been modified.

Objective 6
Apostrophes

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure the use of the apostrophe, including: omissions; the possessive apostrophe; apostrophising plurals, e.g. ladies' coats, and words ending in s; the exception of possessive pronouns.

Focus: possessive pronouns

Whole-class approaches

◆ Explain the term 'pronoun'. Write on the board or flipchart an incomplete list of possessive pronouns. Ask pupils to complete the pattern then discuss what the pronouns have in common, e.g. they tell us who things belong to; they don't use people's names; they represent people's names. Identify the function of the words.

◆ In Shared Reading and Writing, invite pupils to substitute pronouns for nouns, and to notice when writers have done so.

◆ If possible, find a text with examples of its and it's. Discuss the difference. Try deleting or covering examples and ask pupils to work out the correct version.

◆ Work out ways of distinguishing the two, e.g. If you can substitute it is, then the correct form is it's. Another way might be to think of the apostrophe in it's as the top of the missing letter i.

◆ Use 'show me' response cards during a starter activity. Ask pupils to choose between it's and its in sample sentences which are read or said.

Group tasks

◆ Investigate the pattern by which the words in column 2 of the table below are followed by nouns, whereas those in column 3 stand alone.

◆ Pronoun hunt – where in sentences do pronouns tend to occur? How do they work in relation to the named person?

◆ Create lines or poems based on possessive pronouns, e.g. 'your loss, my lucky find'.

◆ Use cloze passages to distinguish between its and it's.

Extension activities

◆ Research older forms of pronouns, e.g. thee/ thine.

◆ Research pronouns in other languages, e.g. ta/ ton; mein/ meine.

1	2	3
I	my	mine
you	your	yours
he	his	his
she	her	hers
it	its	its
we	our	ours
they	their	theirs

Note

◆ It's = it is; its = belonging to it.

27

Objective 6
Apostrophes
Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure the use of the apostrophe, including: omissions; the possessive apostrophe; apostrophising plurals, e.g. ladies' coats, and words ending in s; the exception of possessive pronouns.

Focus: apostrophes for possession (singular and plural)

Whole-class approaches
◆ Draw attention to the uses of apostrophes during Shared Reading and Writing.
◆ Use response cards: give each pupil a pair of cards with wording such as one person		more than one person

Pupils display a card in response to an example spoken or shown by the teacher.

Notes
◆ The general rule is that to form the possessive (genitive) singular we add an apostrophe +s, whilst to form the possessive plural of a plural word ending in s we add only an apostrophe. If the plural does not end in an s (e.g. women, people) we add an apostrophe +s (e.g. women's rights, the people's opinions).
◆ Where the possessive apostrophe is needed, it is usually possible to paraphrase with 'of' or 'belonging to' as in:
– John's skateboard (the skateboard belonging to John).
However, other paraphrases are possible, as in:
– the judge's sentence – the sentence passed by the judge;
– two hours' flight – flight lasting two hours.
◆ Where ownership is involved, a writer simply needs to think who (or what) something belongs to, and put the apostrophe after the owner. This avoids the singular/plural issues.
◆ Conventions relating to the use of the apostrophe are changing as they have done since its introduction from French in the 16th Century. The traditional rule for the singular of words ending in s is to add apostrophe +s, as in Dickens's or Jones's. Modern usage allows the use of an apostrophe only, particularly for words with another 's' in them (e.g. Jesus' teaching) to avoid spluttering. ICT conventions are exerting a pressure for simplification through omission.

Objective 7
Key words

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure the spellings of key words in each subject.

Focus: subject-specific key words

Whole-class approaches
◆ Focus on spellings which pupils find difficult. Invent ways to remember those spellings.
◆ Provide regular spelling slots which feature key words from particular subjects taken from Appendix 2.
◆ Teach spellings in families, e.g. chemical, chemistry, chemist.
◆ Demonstrate how new words can be developed from ones already known, e.g. industry – industrial – industrialisation.
◆ Beat out the syllables, writing out each beat as you say it, e.g. con-tin-ent.
◆ Highlight the trickiest parts of words. Over-write them.
◆ Link new words with words or patterns already known.
◆ Use the look/say/cover/write/check routine rapidly with the whole class – set this as a challenge. For example:
  – write the word to be learned so everyone can see it;
  – all say the word and repeat it in an exaggerated way;
  – pupils copy the word down, naming each letter as they write to help remember;
  – pupils keep saying the word several times to help memory (they should double check they have written it down correctly);
  – cover the word so no one can see it;
  – pupils write the word from memory;
  – repeat this three times;
  – discuss any problems and repeat steps;
  – after the whole-class activity, partners can help each other.
◆ Create a class poster/map, in which each country is a different subject. Fill each country with that subject's key words.

Individual tasks
◆ Use a spelling log.
◆ Maintain subject or school glossary.
◆ Make a note of 'Words I need to learn and how I can remember them'.
◆ Use new vocabulary, checking spelling, in own work.
◆ Look for spelling patterns and rules.
◆ Remember spellings by altering the pronunciation to make the word memorable, e.g. laboratory – lab-or-a-tory.
◆ Use any conventions or rules that apply.
◆ Find words within words, e.g. reign – foreign, sovereign.
◆ Change the sound of the word by exaggeration, e.g. rasp-berry.
◆ Say letter names to a rhythmic beat, like a chant, e.g. u-n-i-o-n.
◆ Invent mnemonics, e.g. Get Rich And Play Hard (graph).
◆ Trace the letters with a finger as you say the word.
◆ Learn the derivation of the word, e.g. television, telephone, teleport, etc.
◆ Use the look/say/cover/write/check routine in pairs, testing each other as spelling partners.

Note
◆ See Appendix 2: Subject spelling lists.

Objective 8
Personal spelling development

To continue learning, constructing and checking spellings, pupils should be able to recognise and record personal errors, corrections, investigations, conventions, exceptions and new vocabulary.

Focus: spelling records

Whole-class approaches
◆ Give spelling logs a high profile in lessons through continual reference.
◆ Display and draw attention to the outcomes of spelling investigations.
◆ Discover and discuss which words cause the most problems for the most pupils. Decide on the top ten spelling challenges facing a particular class and develop mnemonics to secure correct spellings.
◆ Encourage proofreading, using OHT examples – anonymously if necessary.

Group tasks
◆ Pupils should have their own spelling journals to keep records of:
  – target words;
  – the outcomes of investigations;
  – rules and conventions;
  – reminders and mnemonics;
  – lists of helpful words;
  – key words that they continually find difficult (making a note of 'How I will remember this word');
  – words they need, or wish, to learn;
  – common prefixes and suffixes;
  – endings that are determined grammatically, such as ed for past tense;
  – categories of words with the same pattern, e.g. prefix, suffix, difficult subject/words, etc;
  – helpful learning strategies;
  – ways to remember words;
  – ways to spell when they are unsure;
  – other vocabulary work.

Notes
◆ It is important that pupils use their journals as reference books as they write, to help them spell accurately in all their subjects, not just in English.
◆ Spelling logs can be useful in identifying key problems and making them manageable. Generalised exhortations such as 'Take more care with your spelling', are of little help to pupils. It is far better to have specific individual targets drawn from the diagnostic analysis of errors.
◆ Having a positive self-image as a speller is important: spelling logs can demonstrate progress over time and give pupils the motivation to keep improving through strategies they can see have made a difference.

Objective 9
Phonemes and syllables

To continue learning, constructing and checking spellings, pupils should be able to sound out words phonemically and by syllables.

Focus: phonemes and syllables

Whole-class approaches
◆ Confirm that pupils can recognise phonemes, as distinct from syllables, and that they know that phonemes are the smallest unit of sound in a word. Have fun identifying the phonemes in words from the high-frequency lists, e.g. d-i-a-r-y.
◆ Explore syllabification. Pupils need to know that each beat in a word is a syllable and be able to distinguish syllables, e.g. re-mem-ber. This can be checked on by using response (or 'show me') cards labelled with numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. The teacher says a word and pupils hold up a card to match the number of syllables.
◆ Clap out the syllables in words from particular subjects, e.g. musical instruments.

Group tasks
◆ Holding pair conversations in syllable-speak or phoneme-speak.
◆ Sorting words depending on the number of phonemes or syllables.
◆ Writing poems in which the first line of each verse has one syllable, the second line two syllables, etc.

Notes
◆ There are approximately 44 phonemes in English, but only 26 letters – hence many of the challenges of spelling.
◆ Clarify the distinction between digraphs (two letters make one sound, e.g. sh, th) and blends (two letters make two sounds). The latter require clear segmentation in sounding out.
◆ The Literacy Progress Unit on Phonics includes a number of games and activities which help pupils to recognise and spell phonemes.

Objective 10
Analogy
To continue learning, constructing and checking spellings, pupils should be able to draw on analogies to known words, roots, derivations, word families, morphology and familiar spelling patterns.

Focus: using analogy, word groupings and spelling patterns

Whole-class approaches
◆ Feature all of the strategies listed below as starter activities, choosing words appropriate to the text(s) or the topic of the time:
– identifying phonemes (e.g. d-i-a-r-y);
– syllabification (e.g. re-mem-ber);
– breaking a word into affixes (e.g. dis+satisfy);
– linking with word families (e.g. muscle/ muscular);
– looking for words within words (e.g. favOURite);
– referring to etymology (bi+cycle = 2+wheels);
– using analogy (bright, right, etc.);
– creating word webs (e.g. tele/ phone);
– creating class word banks;
– playing What follows? on the board or flipchart.

Group tasks
◆ Create and complete word searches.
◆ Collect words with particular features and make posters with those words presented in a way that makes them memorable (e.g. calligram posters).
◆ Play word games such as Scrabble, Snap, etc.
◆ Keep a personal spelling log.
◆ Work with a spelling partner.
◆ Carry out spelling investigations.

Note
◆ See Appendix 3: Sample spelling investigations.

Objective 11
Strategies for learning spellings

To continue learning, constructing and checking spellings, pupils should be able to identify words which pose a particular challenge and learn them by using mnemonics, multi-sensory re-inforcement and memorising critical features.

Focus: using visual strategies to improve spelling

Whole-class approaches

◆ Teach pupils how to look for the potential difficulties in words by highlighting on enlarged text, e.g. definite, accommodation, necessary.
◆ Spot words within words, e.g. our and favour in favourite.
◆ Play What follows?: write the first letter(s) of a word on the board, with dashes for the remaining letters. Pupils guess what follows, losing a point if they suggest a letter sequence not used in English. They do not lose a point if the suggested letter could have been used, and they prove this by writing up a word containing the suggested letter sequence. The alleged aim of the game is for the person at the board (not necessarily the teacher) to score ten points, or for the class to complete the word. The real aim of the game is to develop awareness of letter patterns.
◆ Collect and discuss words with 'silent' letters and suggest mnemonics.
◆ Try whole-class look / say / cover / write / check.

Group tasks

◆ Establish spelling partners. Each pupil then reads his/her partner's writing and lists words that need learning. The partner decides if any might be learnt more easily by looking, rather than listening (see below), and finds other words which are linked visually with their partner's original words.
◆ Investigate 'silent' letters: different groups collect examples of 'silent' letters and research/speculate how these particular spellings have developed.
◆ Collect homonyms which, although identical in spelling, are different in pronunciation and in meaning, e.g. minute.

Environment	miniature	Wednesday
February	mnemonics

Objective 12
Using a dictionary

To continue learning, constructing and checking spellings, pupils should be able to use the quartiles of a dictionary and find words beyond the initial letter.

Focus: using a dictionary effectively

Whole-class approaches
◆ Have a range of dictionaries in the classroom and use different ones for different reasons, e.g. etymological for word origins, rhyming dictionary.
◆ Tell the story of Samuel Johnson's Dictionary of the English Language and of the Oxford English Dictionary (O.E.D.), and share definitions from both.
◆ Have class 'word finder' contests to see who is the fastest to find particular words. Stress the use of quartiles, and of second and third place letters.
◆ Demonstrate the use and value of a thesaurus.
◆ Be seen to use a dictionary when appropriate.

Group tasks
◆ Create individual/group dictionaries of words from each subject.
◆ Have group 'wordfinder' contests.
◆ Investigate the qualities of different dictionaries and produce a group report for display.

Notes
◆ The recent novel The Surgeon of Crowthorne by Simon Winchester* provides fascinating insights into the creation of the O.E.D.
◆ Dr Johnson's dictionary is now available on CD-ROM.

* Reference: S. Winchester – The Surgeon of Crowthorne. Penguin, 1998.

Objective 13
Spellcheckers

To continue learning, constructing and checking spellings, pupils should be able to make effective use of a spellchecker, recognising where it might not be sufficient or appropriate.

Focus: using a spellchecker

Whole-class approaches
◆ Remind pupils that using spellcheckers can be valuable, but is not always possible, e.g. in examinations, or for homophone errors.
◆ Celebrate the work of individual pupils whose work has benefited from the use of a spellchecker.
◆ If there is an interactive whiteboard available, demonstrate the use of a spellchecker.
◆ Draw attention to a spellchecker's American tendencies if appropriate.

Group tasks
◆ Collaborative writing creates an ideal situation for using a spellchecker effectively. Pupils keep a note of words they need to check on, and learn them by choosing and using an appropriate strategy.
◆ Input personal spelling lists into hand-held spellcheckers so that they are featured in the games.

Appendix 1: Spelling list

The following list of spellings was compiled by a number of secondary schools which all identified the following words as commonly misspelled among this age group.

The list is not intended for blanket teaching, because most pupils will know how to spell most of the words, but it is recommended that early in Year 7 pupils should be helped to learn those spellings about which they are uncertain.

Appendix 2: Subject spelling lists

These lists of subject spellings were compiled by a number of secondary school departments. They identified the words listed below as being words that were often needed and often spelled incorrectly. Schools may use these suggestions as the basis for local lists suitable for their own topics and needs.

The list is not intended for blanket teaching, because all pupils will know how to spell some of the words. However, it is recommended that pupils should be helped to learn those spellings about which they are uncertain.

Appendix 3: Sample spelling investigations

Objective 2
Pluralisation

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure pluralisation, including es endings, and words ending in y, f and vowels.

EXAMPLE 1: a small group investigation into the formation of plurals

Prompts
1. Cut up the words so they are still in pairs, i.e. ash and ashes on one card.
2. Work out how you decide whether to add s or es to the end of a word.
3. Make two lists – those ending in s and those ending in es.
4. Look carefully at the es list and make new groups for different endings, e.g. words ending in x.
5. Read the es list aloud. What can you hear?
6. Try saying the es words without the e. Why is this difficult?
7. Write a rule about which endings need an es, and check it by trying it on other words you know.
8. Try clapping out the syllables in your es list. What happens when you add es? Does the same thing happen to words in the s column?
9. Look closely at the list of words ending in s. What rules can you work out for adding s to words ending in e, y and other letters?
10. Make your own list of words ending in f. Can you work out what happens to these when you add s?

clasp	clasps	kiss	kisses	toy	toys
day	days	lip	lips	watch	watches
delay	delays	monkey	monkeys	window	windows
desk	desks	party	parties	witch	witches

Notes
◆ Most words add s. Add es if the word ends in a hissing/buzzing/shushing sound. Another way to remember this is to add es if you can hear an extra syllable when you make it plural. (The e is added to make the plural easier on the tongue, putting a buffer between too many s sounds.)
◆ Words ending in e – just add s.
◆ Words ending in y – add s if the final letter is preceded by a vowel. If not, change the y to i and add es.

Objective 3
Word endings
Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure word endings, including vowel suffixes such as ing; consonant suffixes such as ful; modifying words ending in y or e; making choices between similar endings such as cian, sion and tion.

EXAMPLE 2: a teacher-led whole-class investigation into ing endings

Focus: How the spellings of verbs alter when ing is added.

Prompts
1. Look at my list of words (see column 1). How would I change clean to cleaning? See to seeing? etc. Amend to become column 2.
2. If in doubt, just add ing. Most words do.
3. Here are some words (see columns 3 and 4) which do something rather odd when we add ing. What happens? Can you work out why this happens? What do they have in common? Further prompt: look at the sound before the double letter.
4. Words which have a short (rap) vowel before the final consonant double the final consonant. It's useful for readers too – they can see that the vowel is short.
5. Here's another group of words (see columns 5 and 6 – split digraphs) which do something different. What happens?
6. Does our other rule still hold good in this list? (Short vowels create doubles, long vowels don't.) The rule does hold good.
7. Tell me three rules about adding ing, completing these sentences:
   – Most words …
   – A short (rap) vowel just before the end tells us …
   – Most words ending in e will …

Simple – add ing		Short vowels – double		Drop e + add ing
1	2	3	4	5	6
ask	asking	chat	chatting	bite	biting
clean	cleaning	clap	clapping	care	caring do	doing	fit	fitting	decide	deciding dream	dreaming	hop	hopping	drive	driving go	going	hug	hugging	hope	hoping jump	jumping	let	letting	make	making
pack	packing	plan	planning	save	saving say	saying	run	running	share	sharing
send	sending	shop	shopping	shine	shining think	thinking	shut	shutting	take	taking
walk	walking	skip	skipping	write	writing

Notes
◆ Most words just add ing.
◆ Most words ending in e drop the e to add ing. (Caution: the dropped e applies to split digraphs. It doesn't apply to other e endings – seeing, being, freeing – but as these are all high-frequency words, pupils don't usually suffer confusion about this. It is probably best to leave it unless pupils raise it or start making the error.)

Objective 3
Word endings

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure word endings, including vowel suffixes such as ing; consonant suffixes such as ful; modifying words ending in y or e; making choices between similar endings such as cian, sion and tion.

EXAMPLE 3: an investigation into changing nouns into verbs (and verbs into nouns) for use with small groups of pupils

Group tasks

1. Distribute a list of base words to pupils (see below).
2. Pupils sort the words into nouns and verbs, noting which words can be both.
3. Pupils convert nouns into verbs and verbs into nouns, identifying and listing the suffixes which are commonly used for this (see below).
4. Pupils generate further lists based on the suffixes.

Base words			Verb to noun	Noun to verb
age	escape	music	er	ate
art	happy	reduce	im	en
change	hate	simple	ism	ify
class	help	television	ist	ise
compose	legal		ity
criminal	love		ness
critic	magnet		ology
decide	medicine		tion
educate	mobile

Note

◆ Word class is determined by the function of a word in context – hence the possibility for words like love or hate to be a noun or a verb.

Objective 4
Prefixes

Pupils should revise, consolidate and secure prefixes, including antonym prefixes, e.g. ir, un.

EXAMPLE 4: group investigations into prefixes with classical origins

Group tasks

1. Give one group four words starting with bi. What do they mean? Tell pupils that bi means a certain number. Can they work out what the number is? It was once a Greek word, which we borrowed. Can they think of any more words containing bi?
2. Give another group four words starting with aqua. Can they work out what aqua means and explain how they worked it out? Can they think of other words with aqua in them?
3. Invite pupils to think about the word super. It was once a Latin word for 'greater'. Can pupils think of any words with super in them? Why do they mean 'greater' ?
4. What other roots can they spot in their reading, e.g. cycle, ped, nova, bio, geo, phon, visi. Can they work out their meanings?

Some useful examples to start with
aqua	water	aquarium	Aquarius	aquatic	aquaplane
auto	self	automatic	autograph	autobiography	automobile
bi	two	bicycle	biped	binoculars	binary
port	carry	transport	portable	import	export
super	greater	supernatural	superman	supernova	superpower
tele	far off	telephone	television	telepathy	telecommunications
trans	across	transport	transplant	transfer	transaction

Notes

◆ Word root spellings are generally reliable, so they are useful for spelling. The word bicycle is a good example – the roots clarify where to place the i and y.

◆ Build on from here by using the common prefixes and suffixes, e.g. re, pre, able, etc.

◆ Extend the investigation to suffixes with classical origins, e.g. phobia, ology.

Objective 11
Strategies for learning spelling

To continue learning, constructing and checking spellings, pupils should be able to identify words which pose a particular challenge and learn them by using mnemonics, multi-sensory re-inforcement and memorising critical features.

EXAMPLE 5: a group investigation into the choice between ie and ei

Group tasks

1. Groups generate a list of words, or use the one below, in which i and e are adjacent and invite pupils to search for patterns. Remind pupils that both digraphs can make different sounds, some of which overlap.
2. Discuss findings.
3. Create a poster to advertise guidelines for choosing the correct digraph.
4. Find as many ways of sounding ie as possible, with examples.

ie			cei	ei (long a)	ei (other)
belief	lie	priest	ceiling	eight	either
brief	medieval	quiet	conceit	foreign	height
chief	mischief	relief	deceit	freight	heir
die	niece	review	perceive	neighbour	neither
field	obedient	shield	receipt	reign	protein
fierce	patient	shriek	receive	rein	their fiery	pie	thief		sovereign	weird
friend	piece	tie		veil
grief	pier	view		vein
handkerchief	pierce	yield		weigh

Notes

◆ Most words use ie.
◆ ie is the only word-ending.
◆ ei is the only word-beginning.
◆ c is usually followed by ei (ancient, glacier, and science are exceptions).
◆ The long a sound generally indicates ei. Note that the long a pronunciation has drifted a little over time, and is also influenced by accent.
◆ Other common ei words (see chart, final column) are best memorised by exception.
